Strategic Brand Guidelines

Snowfied helps people connect with friends, cool surroundings, and the natural and urban environment. It's where you'll meet the real version of yourself. In short, the brand promise describes the emotional benefit our riders derive from the experience of our boards. It's important to keep this promise in mind when writing copy and designing materials. Living up to our brand promise is how we ensure consistency between what we want the brand to be, how our customers experience it, and how they tell other people about it.

The first order of business in brand stewardship is realizing that it's not about business at all. We must recognize that this brand isn't about logos, colors or fonts. These items don't define us. We've crafted them to represent us, but our brand is actually the property of the public and their perception.

A brand is built brick by brick, day by day, cup by cup by the people who experience our drink. It's about people, it always has been. It's about creating a place for relationships to grow – for conversations to happen. As we move forward, let's recognize that this brand is alive, it's fragile and still growing. The logo gives a face to the real body – the people of Canada. Treat the logo how you would treat those people – with care, respect and intentionality.

This set of guidelines are designed to help you understand the details of curating a consistent visual identity. We are all in this together. Honor these guidelines by partnering with us to build a better community through harnessing our internal energy.

Snowfied Brand Guideline

Brand Usages For Print and Web

This system includes a series of graphic elements used at various times to create a comprehensive, cohesive and recognizable identity that represents Snowfied publicly.

Clear Space

When the logo is used, it should be sufficiently isolated from illustrations or other words or images that might detract from the signature's importance. The logo must be at least 30% of the logo mark away from illustrations, photographs, rules, page edges, or other type.

Word Mark

SNOWFIED

Logo Mark

Primary Logo / Brandmark

An Icon is a quick, intentional, visual mark that helps deliver an immediate brand signature to the viewer. Sometimes icons are used as symbolic marks that can represent the company and their services. Other times the icon is just a simple mark that identifies the owner. Other times it represents the values that the company stands by. This is the heart and soul of our identity. When in doubt, always use this icon. This is our go-to logo. This icon must be uniform throughout all of its applications. The graphic integrity of the icon and identity elements should be governed by the consistent use of established standards and observed in all communications with our vendors, affiliates, and the general public. Alterations to the icon are prohibited.

Preferred Usage

The preferred use of the signature is in full colour. If this is not possible then on a pure colour or on a white or light background. This application of the logo should always be considered as the first design option.

Colour palette

With that in mind, the colours selected to represent the brand were chosen taking into consideration 3 important aspects of what snowboarding represents for us:

- The adrenaline rush you experience with the sport;
- Cool vibrant colours to contrast with the calm and uniform environment of a snowy winter;
- And cold, blue tones so the snowboarding theme does not get lost, as that is the whole point of the brand.

The power of colour

Snowboarding is filled with strong and neon-like colours, and the reason goes beyond the pure energy those colours possesses. Having a vibrant and noticeable grants visibility to the sport's adepts to make sure they can be seen from far away, not only for the tricks and camera shots, but also for safety and traceability.

The usage of colours should always consider the balance between the base blues with red, yellow, or both, to achieve a

A trio of blues that evokes the cool breeze our buyers will feel during their adventures. A perfect colour base for Snowfied branding.

Red and yellow are a classic combination of colours that exhales energy, adrenaline and intensity, making it a great pick for colours to contrast with our base and give Snowfied its edge.

Typography

Snowfied is designed to be a snowboard brand. With that in mind, the typography chosen to represent the company should represent the spirit of snowboard. Simple and bold letters to represent the simple yet bold adventure that going down a steep snowy cliff embodies.

DM Sans

Dm Sans and its variations comprehend simple, straightforward, yet classy and stylish typefaces that can be used in a wide manner across the Snowfied branding. The letters fit well under snowboards, the company's focus product. The style of the typeface makes it atemporal, being suitable for not only adults' boards, but also completely coherent with younger audiences.
